FHE Health offers a wide range of comprehensive addiction treatment and rehabilitative services to men and women seeking help for substance abuse. Our programs are based on a long-term approach, reflecting our philosophy that recovery consists of multiple phases: safe and medically managed detox, residential treatment, a gradual transition to lower levels of care, and ultimately sober living.

Our goal is to provide the highest level of quality care at an affordable price for all aspects of treatment. We have a proven track record of helping thousands of struggling addicts and alcoholics achieve sustained, long-term sobriety.
